Solid and Hazardous Waste Management (#7)
[Please sit with your project group]

Case Studies! (until ~2:05)

► Please sit with your project group.

► If you haven't already, I recommend filling in your individual goals and available resources from last week's Group Introduction doc. Also agree on a group name/mascot.

► The case study doc is now in your GDrive folder. Take some time in your case study search: look for something that is implemented currently/historically and has a narrow scope.

► These activities are tools for you to use as you see fit.

► While you are working: be aware that groups are an opportunity for differentiation.

  ► If you want more or less structure let me know.

  ► While I won't force anybody to do things, collective accountability and deadlines can help structure progress. If you are able to agree on some accountability structure and/or deadlines, let me know so I can support you in achieving your deadlines and group accountability.

Try and end every group work session with a list of "next steps" and/or "open questions"

- ► Take a moment as a group and brainstorm and write down some next steps and/or open questions.

- ► If you're particularly interested in one of the next steps or open questions, put your name down next to it and share what you find in Thursday's share out and/or next Tuesday's group work.

Reflect

- Take a couple of minutes to independently reflect on your group work and dynamics thus far after 2 work sessions; for example:

    - What is working well in your group work?

    - It's early days, but is there room for improvement in the group work and dynamics? How can that improvement be realized?

    - Ideas on structures that would help guide your projects?

    - Any structures (e.g., case study doc) that feel restrictive or limiting to your project?
